

Deacon (Glendair's Devils Preacher JH)

Deacon is what I call my experiment dog. He's the first one I've ever trained for tracking with the ultimate goal of having a scent specific air scent dog. First, though he needs to grow up a little. He's the family clown but a smart one at that. With very little training he earned his Junior Hunter (JH) title through the AKC and we are working on his Tracking Dog title as well. I am hoping that this focused tracking training will teach to keep his mind on the job.

His favorite thing to do in his spare time is to swallow socks whole and puke them up in my truck.
